The mosaic benches at the corner of Chicago and Franklin are known by many names: The Thrones, the Phillips Gateway, and Touchstone Plaza. Unfortunately, they have reached the end of their life and are planned to be removed in 2025. While we are saddened by the loss to the community, we also welcome the chance to breathe new life into the corner of Peavey Park and begin the process of envisioning new public art created with the community now for this area.

All are invited to this first planning meeting to discuss the condition of the mosaic benches, timing for removal, preserving small portions, and next steps in creating new art.
